

Nursing and Midwifery Care Research Center

Main activities

Induction of motivation and encouraging researchers in performing research projects related to nursing and midwifery care

Promotion of quality and quantity of research and making the achieved results applicable in the field of nursing and midwifery cares

The idea of the establishment of the research center was proposed at ۲۰۱۳ and the combination of the members of the founding board was identified through the follow-ups, and the request of the establishment was proposed in the University research council, University Council, and research deputy of the health Ministry, respectively. The research center of the evidence-based care was established at ۲۰۱۳ under the chairmanship of Dr. Seyed Reza Mazloum at Mashhad University of Medical Sciences. At ۲۰۱۷, the responsibility of the center was assigned to Mrs. Nahid Golmakani. According to the decision issued in the ۲۶۹th session of the development council of Medical Sciences Universities of the country dated at October ۲۸ ۲۰۱۸, an agreement was reached in principle with the change of the title of the center to the Nursing and Midwifery Care Research Center.

Mission:

The research center of “nursing and midwifery cares” of Mashhad University of Medical sciences by cooperation of the favors of omnipotence and cooperation of the caregiver groups in health field aims to promote clinical and scientific knowledge and empowerment of university and non-university society in the field of research related to nursing and midwifery cares in addition to extend and guide dynamic, progressive, and novel basic research regarding the original quantitative and qualitative studies, review and combining methods related to various aspects of training and treatment-health cares, and provides the background for providing the best nursing-midwifery care services by producing science and combining it with the recent scientific achievements and clinical care experiences.

Perspective:

The research center of nursing and midwifery cares is tended to play role in resolving problems in health field of the country until ۲۰۲۱ through quantitatively and qualitatively growing and promoting research activities in field of nursing and midwifery cares and increase support and use of the basic projects on one side, and motivating and encouraging the applicable research and based on the priorities and society care needs in addition to dynamism at the national and international level, so that to be an influencing, progressive and novel center in scientific and executing organizations in the field of management and nursing and midwifery cares which tries to promote its position to a research center affecting research related to caring in health field by effective national and international interactions (a party of trust and consultations of the relevant scientific and executive organizations and institutes with valid and appropriate national and international position) by all the potential power and research resources, and plays an effective role in providing high quality nursing and midwifery services to the people at the level of region and country, and to be known as the eastern pole of the country in providing these services

Educational Activities

- Confirmatory and exploratory factor analysis workshop
- Localization of clinical guidelines workshop
- Statistic and SPSS workshop
- Symposiums on methodological challenges in

Research/scientific achievements

- Publication of more than 170 articles in national and international journals
- Approve more than 60 research projects
- Designing joint research project with other national and international

Research activity

- Care in midwifery emergencies workshop
- Pain management in neonatal workshop
- Screening in midwifery workshop
- Application of evidence in clinical practice workshop

Research/scientific exchange and cooperation

- Department of Adult Child and Midwifery, School of Health and Education, Middlesex University, London, UK.
- College of Nursing, Purdue University Northwest, 7807 Janes Avenue, Woodridge, IL 60517, USA.
- Payafanavaran Ferdosi

Professional/exclusive activities

- Development and reinforcement of the location of nursing and midwifery research center in provincial, national, and international arenas
- Establishment of substructure and expanding the culture of scientific and critical research and thinking in providing nursing and midwifery care services in the regional and international level
- Establishment of system of prioritizing, guidance, facilitating, and supervision on performing research projects in the field of nursing and midwifery cares
- Development and targeting the applicable research in nursing and midwifery field and optimizing services and cares provided to people and society
- Application and publication of the results of the research to policy-makers, authorities and programmers of the health field

Address:

School of Nursing and Midwifery,

Ibn SinaStreet, Mashhad, Iran

Telephone: +98 01 38091011

Fax: +98 01 38097313

Email: NMC.RC[at]mums.ac.ir